Wir zeigen alle noch zu wenig Respekt vor der Natur, die nach Leonardos dunklen, an Hamlets Rede gemahnenden Worten [...] "piena d'infinite ragioni che non furono mai in isperienza". Jedes von uns Menschenwesen entspricht einem der ungezählten Experimente, in denen diese ragioni der Natur sich in die Erfahrung drängen.

We all still show too little respect for Nature which (in the obscure words of Leonardo which recall Hamlet's lines) "is full of countless causes [ragioni] that never enter experience." Every one of us human beings corresponds to one of the countless experiments in which these 'ragioni' of nature force their way into experience.

— Sigmund Freud, Leonardo da Vinci and a Memory of His Childhood (1910)

...si Freud a écrit quelque part que "l'anatomie, c'est le destin", il y a peut-être un moment où, quand on sera revenu à une saine perception de ce que Freud nous a découvert, on dira – je ne dis même pas que "la politique, c'est l'inconscient" – mais, tout simplement: l'inconscient c'est la politique! Je veux dire que ce qui lie les hommes entre eux, ce qui les oppose, est précisément à motiver de ce dont nous essayons pour l'instant d'articuler la logique.

... [I]f Freud wrote somewhere that "anatomy is destiny," there's a moment, perhaps, once we've returned to a healthy perception of what Freud discovered for us, when we will say—I won't even say "politics is the unconscious," but quite simply: The unconscious is politics! Meaning that what binds men together, and sets them in opposition, is precisely to be explained by what we're attempting now to articulate the logic of.

— Jacques Lacan, Seminar XIV, 1966-67,
The Logic of the Phantasm, May 10, 1967

Foundations of Psychoanalysis

This series is designed to introduce and study some of the concepts essential to psychoanalysis. It is addressed to all those interested in psychoanalysis, independent of level of study and orientation.

Critique of Oedipal Normativity (Part II)

André Michels

Saturday, September 23, 2023 • 10:00 AM – 1:30 PM

Through a rereading of the Oedipal configuration, we will reflect on the notion of normativity and its function in psychoanalysis. What are the theoretical consequences of Lacan's rereading of logic tradition? What are the clinical consequences of a novel reading of the notion of norm?

Suggested readings: Lacan: seminar of 20 Nov. 1963, "Introduction aux Noms-du-Père" in Des Noms-du-Père (Seuil, 2005); Seminars XIV, 1966-67, La logique du fantasme [The Logic of the Phantasm]; XVII, 1969-70, L'envers de la psychanalyse [The Other Side of Psychoanalysis]. Canguilhem, Georges: Le normal et le pathologique (1943) [The Normal and the Pathological]. Foucault, Michel: Histoire de la sexualité, 1. La volonté de savoir (1976) [History of Sexuality, vol. 1, An Introduction].

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: $40; for students with ID: $10. Registration details to follow.

The Gap between Politics and Reality

Betty Milan

Friday, October 20, 2023 • 6:30 PM – 8:30 PM

What can explain the negationism of politicians and religious leaders during the recent pandemic? What is the relation between disbelief in one's own death and belief in various saviors? We will address these questions by examining Brazil under Jair Bolsonaro's Trump-inspired government.

Suggested readings: Morin, Edgar: L'entrée dans l'ère écologique (2020); with Sabah Aboussalam: Changeons de voie : Les leçons du coronavirus (2020); with Anne Brigitte Kern: Homeland Earth: A Manifesto for the New Millennium (translation, 1999).

Location: In-person in NYC.

Fee: $40; for students with ID: $10. Registration details to follow.

The Inside of Stumbling

Daniel Heller-Roazen

Saturday, December 16, 2023 • 10:00 AM – 12:30 PM

Freud's theory of the "slip" (Fehlleistung) is one of the original contributions of psychoanalysis. Yet as Freud was himself the first to indicate, it is also an elucidation of immemorial customs of attending to portentous events. Through a consideration of some premodern and modern interpretations of stumbling, this presentation will explore the ways in which the Freudian theory redefines the sense of apparent accidents.

Suggested readings: Selections from: Freud: The Psychopathology of Everyday Life (1904); Lacan: Seminar V, 1957-58, Formations of the Unconscious; Cicero: On Divination; Benjamin, Walter: One-Way Street.

Location: Online via Zoom.

Fee: $40; for students with ID: $10. Registration details to follow.

Father: The Love of What Binds

Paula Hochman

Saturday, January 20, 2024 • 10:00 AM – 12:30 PM

"Father" is Lacan's name for what connects the real, the symbolic, and the imaginary, which is to say, the structure that houses the subject. We will examine its operation in psychosis and neurosis.

Suggested readings: Lacan: Seminars XXII, 1974-75, R.S.I., April 15, 1975; XI, 1964, Les fondements de la psychanalyse [The Foundations of Psychoanalysis], class of June 24, 1964 ("In You More than You"); 9e Congrès de l'École Freudienne de Paris sur "La transmission," in Les Lettres de l'École, 1979, n° 25, vol. II, pp. 219-220.

Location: Online via Zoom.

Fee: $40; for students with ID: $10. Registration details to follow.

Times of Mourning

Adriana Bauab

Friday, April 26, 2024 • 6:30 PM – 8:30 PM

In Spanish, the word duelo means mourning and grief, but also duel: a struggle for recognition. Indeed, the mourning process is both a challenge and an opportunity for subjects to recompose their symbolic universes, recovering the lack that can rekindle desire. Through various clinical examples, we will propose new tools for treating bereavement.

Suggested readings: Freud: “Mourning and Melancholia” (1917). Lacan: Seminars VI, 1958-59, Desire and Its Interpretation, classes 13-19, on Hamlet, March 4 to April 29, 1959; VII, 1959-60, The Ethics of Psychoanalysis, classes 19-21, on Antigone, May 25 - June 15, 1960; X, 1962-63, L'Angoisse [Angst], class 24, July 3, 1963, on the function of mourning. Bauab, Adriana: Times of Mourning: Bereavement, Clinical Challenge, and Subjectivity (Lexington Books, 2021).

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: $40; for students with ID: $10. Registration details to follow.

Seminar

The Direction of Treatment

Adriana Passini

What happens when an analyst places her- or himself in the treatment as an imaginary object rather than functioning as a semblance of object a? The analysis bogs down. Lacan illustrates the analyst's position with the episode in the Odyssey in which Odysseus eludes destruction by the sirens' voices by lashing himself to the mast.

This seminar will examine the function of the fundamental phantasm, and the position of the analyst in the treatment.

Each meeting will include a discussion of specific readings.

Dates: Meetings will take place from 12:15 PM to 1:30 PM on the third Wednesday of the month, from October 2023 through April 2024. The first meeting will take place on October 18, 2023.

Location: Online via Zoom.

Fee: Attendance is free.

Registration: Prior registration is required. For more information, please contact Adriana Passini at adrianapassini@aol.com.

Seminar

On the One and the Pas-Tout (Part II)

Paola Mieli

This seminar continues to explore the relations between the subject and the collective, and the discourses that organize them. Particular attention is paid to the function of the One and Lacan's logic of the pas-tout, the not-all, as well as to the function of the subject supposed to know in social bonding and in analysis.

Each meeting will include a discussion of specific readings, which will be decided meeting by meeting and posted on our website.

The meetings will take place from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM on the following Saturdays:
January 27, February 10, March 16, April 6, and May 4, 2024.

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: $40 per meeting. Students with ID: $10 per meeting. Registration details to follow.

For more information, please call Paola Mieli at (212) 228-5120.

Workshop

Overcoming and Becoming in Hegel's Phenomenology of Spirit

Raffaella Colombo

Saturday, October 7, 2023 • 10:30 AM – 12:30 PM

Saturday, November 4, 2023 • 10:00 AM – 12:00 PM

The section “Observation of Nature” in chapter 5 of Phenomenology of Spirit can be considered a fundamental point from which to understand Hegel's surrounding reflections on Self-Consciousness, Reason and Spirit. Following the constant movements of life and the dialectical relation between inorganic and organic in the natural world provides tools for grasping his ideas concerning Individuality, Subjectivity, Objectivity, and the crucial processes of Negation and Recognition.

Suggested reading: G.W.F. Hegel, The Phenomenology of Spirit, Cambridge University Press, 2018, pp. 136 – 252.

Location: online via Zoom for both dates.

Fee: $40 per meeting; For students with ID: $20 per meeting. Registration details to follow.

Workshop

On the Relations between the Unconscious Real and the Numerical Real (Part II)

Erik Porge

Saturday, February 17, 2024 • 10:00 AM – 2:00 PM

In 1973 Lacan distinguished an inaccessible real of the unconscious and a real of number, two forms of real. What relates them? In the same year, he also posed a question regarding logical time: What, in a set of dimensions, “simultaneously produces surface and time”? We will address the limits to deciphering the signifiers in dreams and to censorship, and the limits number creates. The boundary between these two reals depends on the contingency of object a in the analytical cure and the end of analysis.

Suggested readings: Freud: The Interpretation of Dreams (1900), chapter 6, “The Dream-Work.” Lacan: Seminars XIX, 1971-72, “...ou pire” [“...Or Worse,”], June 1, 1972; XX, 1972-73, Encore, Jan. 16 and June 26, 1973; XXI, 1973-74, Les non-dupes errent, April 9, 1974; XXII, 1974-45, R.S.I., May 13, 1975. “Compter avec Lacan,” issue theme, essaim no. 49, automne 2022.

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: $40; For students with ID: $20. Registration details to follow.

Workshop on Child Analysis

Raising 'Weirdness' to the Dignity of Style

Jean-Michel Vives

Saturday, March 30, 2024 • 10:00 AM – 2:00 PM

The behavior that people involved with autistic children often view as 'weird' is, in fact, these children's response to their world: their way of being.

As such, it serves us, in the dynamics of the transference, to create a possible environment for them in which 'weirdness' can gradually be tried out as subjective style.

Suggested readings: Lacan: Seminar VII, 1959-60, L'Éthique de la psychanalyse/ The Ethics of Psychoanalysis, classes on "The Problem of Sublimation," Jan. 13 to March 9, 1960.

Winnicott, D.W.: Playing and Reality (1971), ch. 1, "Transitional Objects and Transitional Phenomena" (1953). Orrado, I. and Vives, J.-M.: Autisme et médiation. Bricoler une solution pour chacun (Paris, Arkhê, 2020); "The autistic and his signature" (2023), Parceque ce n'est pas ça: A Journal of the Lacanian Field (<https://parcequeca.com>).

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: $40. For students with ID: $20. Registration details to follow.

Workshop on Child Analysis

On the Supposition of a Subject

Alain and Catherine Vanier

Saturday, April 13, 2024 • 10:00 AM – 4:00 PM

Through various clinical experiences – the psychotic mother and her baby, newborns in intensive care, autism, and others we will discuss – we've come to the hypothesis of an initial supposition of a subject, resting on a logic of the sign before or beyond the signifier, displacing the notion of an initial dyad.

Suggested readings: Vanier, Alain: Lacan (2000, Other Press); “D’une dyade à plusieurs. Quelques remarques à propos d’un travail avec des mères psychotiques et leur nourrisson,” Psychologie clinique, n° 12, 2001/2, Paris, 2002. Vanier, Catherine: Premature Birth: The Baby, the Doctor and the Psychoanalyst (2017, Karnac Press).

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: $40. For students with ID: $20. Registration details to follow.

Reading Groups

Desire and Fantasy: Reading Lacan's Seminar Desire and Its Interpretation

Lillian Ferrari

Focusing on Lacan's early elaborations of the phantasm, the group will continue to read his Seminar VI, 1958-59, Desire and Its Interpretation, with special emphasis on lessons 20 through 26. Reading for the first meeting will be class 20 of the Seminar (May 13, 1959).

Dates: Meetings will take place on Thursdays from 8:00 PM to 9:15 PM on the following dates: in 2023, November 16 and December 14; in 2024, January 11, February 15, March 14 and April 11.

Location: Online via Zoom.

Registration: Please contact Lillian Ferrari at lillasferrari@gmail.com.

Reading Group

On Clinical Work with Children

Angelo Villa

The doubts arising out of today's clinical work with children force us to thoroughly question our therapeutic practice. This reading group returns to the conceptual assumptions of psychoanalysis through a study of the canonical texts of child analysis, from Freud to Klein, from Winnicott to Lacan, and examples participants will provide from their own clinical experience with children (required).

Dates: Meetings will take place from 12 PM to 2 PM on the first Sunday of the month, from October through June.

Location: Online via Zoom.

Registration: The group will be limited to ten. Please contact Angelo Villa at angvil.ssg@libero.it.

Book Presentation

Are We All Hyperactive?

The Astonishing Epidemic of Attention Disorders

Patrick Landman

Translated by Peter Gillespie and David Jacobson

Editor, Ona Nierenberg

Agincourt Press, The Seahorse Imprint, 2023

Date to be announced.

As the diagnosis of ADHD continues its decades-long rise, the English translation of Patrick Landman's Tous hyperactifs? L'incroyable épidémie de troubles de l'attention could not have come at a better time. The book begins by identifying the epistemological biases, poorly designed scientific studies, and conflicts of interest that have led to the dominant assumption that ADHD is a neurodevelopmental disorder based in a biological deficit or brain dysfunction.

But if ADHD does not exist as a natural entity like a medical illness, its symptoms certainly do. Hence the book's second important contribution: several psychoanalytic hypotheses regarding the psychic and behavioral symptoms associated with ADHD that will prove helpful for clinical practitioners.

Location: In-person in NYC and online via Zoom.

Fee: Attendance is free and open to the public. Registration details to follow.

Clinical Working Groups

Location: To be determined.
